

Unit 6: The Environment

1. The Environment Vocabulary:

aluminium	cardboard	electricity

gas	Glass	paper

plastic	solar power	wind power

2. Should and Shouldn't:

"Should" - Giving Advice or Recommendations:

- Use: We use "should" to express advice, recommendations, or what is considered the right or best thing to do.
- Structure: Subject + should + base form of the verb.
 - Example: "You should eat more vegetables." (Advice)
 - Example: "We should leave early to avoid traffic." (Recommendation)
 - Example: "She should study for her test." (Advice)

Unit 6: The Environment

"Shouldn't" - Giving Negative Advice or Prohibitions:

- Use: "Shouldn't" is the negative form of "should." We use it to advise against something or to express that something is not a good idea.
- Structure: Subject + shouldn't + base form of the verb.
 - Example: "You shouldn't eat too much junk food." (Negative advice)
 - Example: "They shouldn't be late." (Prohibition/strong negative advice)
 - Example: "He shouldn't drive when he's tired." (Negative advice)

3. Writing a blog about reusing things to make something new

Go green with Kerry!

Hey everybody! We all know we should reduce waste, reuse and recycle. We know we shouldn't throw away old things if we can use them again. So I have a great message board you can make with ugly, old things. Here's what you need:

- A baking tray
- A hammer and a nail
- Wrapping paper
- Scissors
- Glue
- An empty can
- Bottle tops
- Notepaper
- Magnets

- 1 Ask your mum or dad to make a hole in one end of the baking tray with a hammer and a nail.
- 2 Measure and cut the wrapping paper to fit the baking tray. Glue the wrapping paper to the baking tray.
- 3 Measure and cut the wrapping paper to fit the can. Glue the wrapping paper to the can. Glue two magnets to the side of the can. Put the can on the baking tray for pens and pencils.
- 4 Glue magnets inside the bottle tops. Cover the front with notepaper. Put your board on the wall.

And there you have it! A beautiful, new message board!
Visit my blog next time for ideas about saving energy.

